Forestry, Fire and State Lands

The work itself requires arduous physical exertion under rigorous conditions. The ability to walk over rough, uneven terrain is mandatory, and climbing hills covered with trees, brush, rocks, and debris is to be expected. Minimum physical skills include heavy labor, bending, lifting, and carrying backpacks weighing 45 pounds or more. Some positions require living out of a backpack for several weeks at a time, sleeping on the ground, or staying at remote spike camps or work centers.
